Manning and Springer Still Hold the Fort and Blow their Tazoo's.

Santa Fe Has Another Shooting and then Vanishes her Sanctimony.

Tilden's Barrel—The Old Fox Watches for his prey—Remembers of the House beginning to wake up.

Washington, D. C. April 5.—The article in the Washington papers respecting which Manning made a personal explanation in the House to-day contains charges against Springer, of Illinois, which it alleges were substituted by Manning. The latter in his explanation said he would leave the case of Springer wholly untouched and treat him with the utmost fairness. He then referred to a portion of the article which states that the Democratic members of the Election Commission had met in Springer's room and unanimously agreed to support the Sub-Committee. This was untrue. He also denied the intention of demanding an investigation of the charges against Springer. He had prepared no charge that Springer had received money in this case.

Springer then made some remarks in a feeling manner referring to the article in detail he stated that Waddel the reporter, who wrote the article in question had told him "Springer," that the information contained in it came from Manning and Waddel, he said the following was the letter which he received: Washington March 4th. Sir if you will keep Washburne in his seat in spite of the Democrats we will pay Mrs. S. five thousand dollars, get the thing squashed at once, respectfully "Sig."

come here and there have been strong influences at work in China to adopt a policy of mutual and entire exclusion as to the U. S. rather than have the Chinese here ill-treated. The number of Chinese in this country have been steadily decreasing for 3 years and is diminishing more rapidly than ever at the present time.

old Senate

The Vice President presented communication from the Secretary of war showing the necessity of an additional appropriation of $255,939 to pay the certificates for arrears of pay Bounty due white and colored soldiers and their heirs issued until June 30th 1880. Pendleton presented a petition from the Cincinnati Type foundry against the reduction of duty on Type. By Allison to compensate C. B. & O. R. R. for facilitating overland mails under agreement also to pay Burlington Cedar Rapids and northern for mail transportation. Bill amending sections 2262 and 2301 of the revised statutes in relation to settlers affidavit in preemption and committed homestead entries was advocated by Teller and passed, it permits affidavits required by those statutes to be made before county clerks instead of register or receiver of land and disjunct thus equalizing provisions in this respect of homestead and preemption laws.

add Washington. Mr. Manning rising to question the privilege, read an article from a Washington paper of Saturday, respecting the action of Chairman Springer, in the Donnelly-Washburne case. He denied all purported facts in the article, particularly the statement that he had substantiated them.

Mr. Springer ignored the question whether Manning had substantiated the facts, and making it a question of veracity between Manning and the newspaper. He then stated that he had received an anonymous letter, though not signed by a Republican nor was it written by a Republican, and that he was convinced and always had been, that the letter was written by Donnelly or one of his friends for the purpose of insulting or bull-dozing him, because they had heard he and Springer would not vote in favor of Donnelly. He sent to the clerk's desk and had read a letter from H. H. Farley, urging him to vote for Donnelly, and he stated that there was a great similarity between the handwriting of the anonymous letter.

As soon as the controversy in regard to the Donnelly-Washburne contest had come to a close, Manning reiterating the assertions that he had been led by Springer to believe that he, Springer, would vote with the Democrats; not only to unseat Washburne, but to seat Donnelly.

Mr. Weaver introduced his resolutions declaring that all currency, whether paper or metallic, should be issued by and under the control of the government, and that the yeas and nays be taken on the suspension of the rules and the adoption of the resolutions.

Saulsbury opposed the bill authorizing a revised list of non-commissioned army officers of thirty years service because the pension list was large enough. He told how thousands of civilians had done as much for the country as these officers who had too much attention paid them. The youth were beginning to learn that all glory came through the army and navy. The bill went over.

The Senate considered the Ute agreement bill. Teller said it would take $4,000,000 to settle amicably with the Indians therefore it was important. Dawes opposed it on account of the expense. Adjourned.

MISCELLANY.

SHOOTING AT SANTA FE.

Special to the Gazette. Santa Fe, April 5.—Last night a police officer shot and killed one Wm. Robinson. The latter made an attack on the policeman, shooting at him, the ball grazing his hand. Robinson was considered a hard character.

Santa Fe, April 5.—Wm. Robertson, a shoemaker, started out last night at one o'clock on a man killing expedition, and meeting police officer Sunday in an alley, shouted: "You son-of-a-b—h, you might as well have this as any body else," and fired twice, each ball taking away a piece of Sunday's fingers, and at the second shot Sunday fired, shooting Robinson through the heart. He died in ten minutes. The verdict of the coroners jury was justifiable killing.

Denver, April 5.—D. C. Dodge, General Manager of the Rio Grande Railroad to-day appointed S. R. Auslie General Superintendent, and S. W. Eccles acting General Freight and Passenger Agent. The position of General Freight and Passenger Agent was tendered to W. M. Hastings but declined on account of ill health. The appointment is said to give general satisfaction. The earnings of the Rio Grande road during the last week of March is stated at $37,000.

Georgetown, April 5. The town election held here to-day resulted as follows: Mayor, Jno. R. Hombal, Republican; Councilmen, first ward, W. L. Peabody, Republican; second ward, A. Selak, Democrat; third ward F. X. Archer, Republican.

San Francisco, Cal., April 5.—At a meeting of the Board of Election Commission to-day representatives of workingmen filed a protest against the ballots of the citizens union. It was received and placed on file. Mayor Kallack suggested that the proper course for the workingmen would be to obtain a mandamus.

Location of Mining Claims.

In answer to a note of inquiry from "Prospector," we would state:

1. Only citizens and those who have declared their intention of becoming such, can legally locate mining claims.

2. All land is mineral that is more valuable for mining than farming purposes.

3. Where not otherwise limited by local laws, 300 feet ground may be taken up on each side of the vein or lode, and 1,500 feet along the lode.

4. Locators have the exclusive right to all the surface ground included in the lines of their locations, and of all veins through their entire depth, the top or apices of which are inside the surface lines; but their right of concession is confined to such portions thereof as lie between vertical planes drawn downward through the end lines of their location, no right being granted to enter upon the surface location of another.

5. The discoverer must record within twenty days from the date of discovery, and his location certificate must contain the name of the vein, the name of the locator, the date of location, the number of feet in length claimed on each side of the discovery shaft, the number of feet in length each side, and the general course of the vein as nearly as it may be.

6. The discovery shaft must show a well-defined vein; a plain notice embracing the above facts must be posted at the point of discovery, and the surface boundaries marked by substantial posts or stone monuments at each corner.

Low Grade Ores.

Mining men on the Pacific coast are agitated over the question of what is to be done with the low grade ores. There are hundred of mammoth ledges extending through various parts of the section named, which are found to contain reasonable quantities of gold assayed, but when subjected to the milling process do not pay for working, because all of the gold therein cannot be saved. Another drawback to all the mineral enterprises of the Pacific coast, especially to those of California and Nevada is the loss suffered in treating ore by a portion of the ore running off in tailings. Within a comparatively recent time inventions have been made to lessen the evil, but there is yet room for radical improvement. European miners are said to possess great advantages in this respect over America. It is said that in Europe if ore contains but 7 per cent of silver it can be treated.

The White Pine country in Nevada which was the scene of a great mining boom a few years ago, bids fair to come into prominence again this summer. Several of the mines have struck veins of rich ore which proves to be of a very permanent nature. A number of capitalists and mining experts from California and the Comstock are directing their attention to this section of Nevada.
